

Near what is today Guernsey, Wyoming there are deep ruts carved into the rock by the metal rims of the thousands of wagon wheels that passed by over the years. In some areas the ruts are 5 feet deep in stone!