

Devil's Gate was a deep canyon cut into the granite rock by the Sweetwater River. There was no room for the wagons alongside the river so the trail had to go around Devil's Gate.