

Soda Springs, Idaho was one of the most pleasant places on the Oregon Trail. Springs of carbonated water bubbled from the ground. Pioneers added sugar to the water and drank it. It was an early form of Soda Pop!