

Fort Walla Walla (previously Fort Nez Perce') was a Hudson Bay Trading Post on the Snake River. Though it had few supplies, the British manager Archibald McKinley did all he could to help the emigrants. Some sold their wagons and bought horses while others built boats to float to Oregon City. Others continued on by wagon to the Dalles.