

Name _____

Date _____

Future Tense

Can't You Make Them Behave, King George?
Grammar: Verb Tenses

Verbs in future tense show that an event is going to happen. To form the future tense, use a helping verb such as will.

present tense

She learns about American history.

future tense

She will learn about American history.

To shorten a future tense verb, you can use a contraction.
She will learn contracts to she'll learn.

Thinking Question

Is the action something that is going to happen?

Activity Write the future tense of the verb in parentheses. Write both the full future tense and the contraction.

1. She (takes) a field trip with her class.
2. They (visit) the site of a famous battle.
3. She (sees) the bridge that she read about in school.
4. They (talk) to the park ranger about the battle.
5. The teacher calculates how much it (costs) to buy copies of a historic map for their classroom.