

Name _____

Date _____

Imperative and Exclamatory Sentences

A Royal Mystery

Grammar: Kinds of Sentences

An imperative sentence gives an order. It ends with a period.

Hang up that sign for the play.

An exclamatory sentence expresses strong feeling. It ends with an exclamation point.

You did a great job on the sign!

Thinking Question

Does this sentence give an order or express strong feeling?

Activity Write the sentence using correct end punctuation and capitalization. Then label the sentence imperative or exclamatory.

1. wow, I love creating movie posters and signs
2. make a poster for the school play
3. hang it on the bulletin board in the hall
4. what a great variety of posters our class made
5. we've really improved since the beginning of the year